A PLEA FOR THE FIREMEN

Editor Tribune—With your permission I would like, in a brief way, to offer a few suggestions, and ask a few fivorist at the hands of our city fathers. Some time ago a request was made of the above-mentioned hods to take the wages of one class of men that as a rule, are not considered of much consequence here or elsewhere twith some exceptions), by the majority of taxpayers unless their services are needed, which they were nearly 400 times during 1992, with a proportionate tocrease during 1919. Mr. fiditor, I refer to the fireman. It costs the citizens of Salt Lake, per capita, $11 per annum to maintain lis fire-fighting force and considering the sirva covered and class of buildings, we are fortimate that he because of the department, but we also realize that, with others, the cost of maintaining a family has fire-reased such that a new teginner of the demarment has to go in dept for a vece or more before he can can immediate the season and complete the corner of the corner of the demarment has to go in dept for a vece or more before he can can immediate the season and complete two the fire of the demarment has to go in dept for a vece or more before he can can immediate the season and considering the size of the demarment has to go in dept for a vece or more before he can can immediate the season and considering the size of the demarment has to go in dept for a vece or more before he can can immediate the season and considering the size much included the season and considering the size of the demarment has to go in dept for a vece or more before he can can immediate the season and considering the size of the demarment has to go in dept for a vece or more before he can can immediate the season and the season and considering the size of the demarment has the best of the demarment for the control of the season and considering the size of the demarment of the control of the season and considering the size of the demarment of the control of the season of the demarment of the control of the control of the control of
